Subject: RE: Hamilton county well map

Things went well. I had previously answered questions about potential risk to groundwater from Brian Atkinson (lives at end of street). After talking with you this morning, David Cage and I met with Tony Shafer, the next door neighbor to Mr. Atkinson. At his request, we also met with his next door neighbor, Mr. Crockett. At Mr. Crockett's request, we knocked on his next door neighbor, Mr. Johnson – but there was no answer at that door.

In all cases, we explained the risk to their groundwater was extremely remote. But they did ask where they could (possibly) have their own samples analyzed for a piece of mind. We advised commercial options or ISDH via HCHD.

Here is a link to our county online map room. We just put out a layer that has potable well permits and dnr well date base points combined for research reference only. Working to make smart map but for now it helps, say, hey something may be here.
